Place Reliance On Auxiliaries Says Air Chief

The Canadian government is placing the utmost reliance on R.C.A.F. auxiliary squadrons in its postwar plans for the R.C.A.F., Air Marshal Robert Leckie, C.B., D.S.O., D.S.C., D.F.C., chief of the Canadian air staff, said here today in his first official announcement on policy regarding the auxiliary squadrons.

War experience had proved the auxiliary squadrons could be incorporated very quickly into a regular air force in time of need, and the record of R.C.A.F. auxiliary squadrons in World War II could only be described as magnificent, he said.

The whole of the R.C.A.F. post-war plans rested very heavily on the auxiliary squadron scheme, he said.

CAREFUL SELECTION

Air Marshal Leckie also stated that recruiting for the regular air force was going more slowly than he would like to see, owing to the R.C.A.F.'s policy of careful selection. However, he said, "We are going to continue to be choosy even if the air force is under strength for some time."

The officer establishment was practically complete and the airman establishment had passed the half-way mark, he said.

Air Marshal Leckie is here on an annual inspection tour and he will pay special attention to the R.C.N. college at Royal Roads where R.C.A.F. cadet training is being planned. Full details of plans for the training would be made in a joint statement by the navy board and air council, the air marshal said.

RETAIN PAT BAY

Patricia Bay was a permanent station the R.C.A.F. would always retain, he said, and plans are in hand to activate an auxiliary squadron there in the near future.

Air Marshal Leckie said he hoped that ex-R.C.A.F. members, even if they did not join the auxiliary squadron, would take an interest in it and make the auxiliary squadron the focal point of service flying in this district.

Record Douglas Fir, 13 Ft. Across, Felled

TACOMA (AP)—Nearly 13 feet in diameter at the base, the largest Douglas fir tree known to have been felled, has been cut in the Packwood Forest, southwest of Mount Rainier.

It is not known how tall the 586-year-old tree was at its prime as lightning or a high wind years ago shattered it 138 feet from its base. The remaining section contains an estimated 11,076 cubic feet of wood or enough, theoretically, to produce 349,464 square feet of plywood, sufficient to build 58 five-room houses, or 132,012 board feet of lumber.

Begin Construction Of Large Addition To Empress Kitchen

An extensive addition to the kitchen at the Empress Hotel has now been begun by D. W. Burnett, contractor.

The extension, which runs from the existing kitchen to the ballroom, will measure 45 by 38 feet when completed. Work to be done includes installation of steel beams, reinforced concrete slabs, tiled floors and reinforced concrete walls.

New equipment will go into the addition, but the equipment plans have not yet been published. There will be an entrance from the ballroom to the kitchen through the addition.

Present plans call for completion of the addition by the end of May, 1947.

Czechs May Change Policy To Win Back Large U.S. Credits

PRAGUE (AP)—Rumors of possible government changes "to appease the United States" spread today in Czechoslovakia, shaken by suspension of American credits on which it had counted in a two-year $1,400,000 post-war reconstruction program.

A report that Vlado Clementis, Communist Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, might resign drew an emphatic denial from a Foreign Office spokesman Friday even as the cabinet deliberated until a late hour.

The State Department announced in Washington Wednesday that it had broken off negotiations for a $50,000,000 Export

Import Bank loan to Czechoslovakia and stopped the remaining $40,000,000 of a $50,000,000 credit to buy surplus United States army goods.

In explanation, the department said, among other things, that Czechoslovakia had agreed to resell to Romania some $10,000,000 in surplus property bought from the United States.

The Czechoslovak Foreign Office said Clementis was ill in Paris, where he attended the Peace Conference.

If the loss of U.S. credits should hamper the reconstruction plan, Communist Premier Klement Gottwald and other leftist statesmen would run into growing political difficulties.

King Edward VII Gift Watch In Jewelry Stolen From Windsors

LONDON (CP)—Two rings given the Duke of Windsor by his grandfather, King Edward VII, were among jewelry stolen from the Duke and Duchess Wednesday night, police disclosed today.

A gold watch belonging to the Duke, also, was stolen. The watch and rings were in the Duchess' jewel case, discarded by the thieves on a golf course adjoining the Earl of Dudley's Ednam Lodge.

The value of the Duke's jewelry was included in the £20,000 ($80,000) estimate of the loss.

Scotland Yard sent operatives into the financial district's Hatton Garden, where sidewalk traders deal daily in thousands of dollars' worth of precious stones. Yard men interviewed dozens of known criminals and jewel "fences."

There also were signs that investigators were looking to France for a break in the case.

London Doubts Yarn Stalin To Travel

LONDON (AP)—A Halifax Chronicle report that Russian Premier Stalin would travel to the United States aboard the liner Aquitania next month was greeted with skepticism in London diplomatic circles today.

A Foreign Office spokesman broke into an unfinished request for information about it with "you mean that Canadian story about Stalin, I suppose. Well, we've had no information at all about it. Why don't you try the Russian Embassy or 10 Downing Street?"

No. 10 Downing Street's spokesman was spending the week-end in the country. His secretary said: "I'm afraid I can't help, but it's really an interesting rumor."

The young woman in the Russian Embassy's press office said: "We have had no news of it, thank you."

The Cunard White Star Lines, owners of the vessel, said: "The ship is being prepared for ranking delegates of the United States, Britain, France and Russia as well as other United Nations leaders. I suppose if Stalin wants on, he can get on, but we don't know anything about it."

Spurn Steaks At $1.25 a Pound 99c Pork Chops

CHICAGO (AP)—Only a small supply of fresh meat appeared in most United States butcher shops today, but already there were indications many customers weren't going to pay the higher prices being asked for steaks, pork chops, ham and other cuts.

Despite a flood of livestock into market this week after removal of price controls, packers said several more days would be needed to move even a "fair" supply of meat to retail outlets. But there was more meat in the butcher shops of the nation this week-end than for the last several weeks—and at much higher prices.

From cities across the United States came reports of buyers' resistance to the soaring prices asked for meat, and in some instances dairy products. Ceiling prices on cattle had been $20.25 and on hogs $16.25. During the week the highest prices for cattle were a record $36 and $27.50 for hogs.

Reaction to $1.25-a-pound steaks, 99-cent pork chops and 59-cent frankfurters ranged from "I'd starve before I'd pay that price" to remarks described by one market manager as "unprintable."

Typical consumer reaction to boosted meat prices was reported by various cities.

New York: Many butchers reported one out of three customers turning away from $1 roast beef and 75-cent hamburger.

Minneapolis: Only male buyers, "obviously irked," paid the higher price in silence, one retailer reported. He said what women said in refusing to pay 65 cents for pot roast and 75 cents for pork chops was "unprintable."

BEYOND THEIR PURSES

Washington, D.C.: Butchers reported many buyers passing up 5-cent veal cutlets and 79-cent leg of lamb, explaining they could not afford it.

Chicago: A buyers' strike against all commodities except those essential to life was pledged by representatives of 25 civic, labor and church organizations. A committee has been formed to arrange for "flying squadrons" of housewives to picket stores whose prices are deemed excessive.

Seizures, Fines As U.S. Hunters In Quebec Woods Questioned

OTTAWA (CP)—The hunters' side of the story started to come out today in the large-scale seizures of allegedly illegal hunting equipment in the area around Maniwaki, Que., 100 miles north of Ottawa.

The Ottawa Better Business Bureau made public a letter from the Geneva, N.Y., Chamber of Commerce which said American tourist-hunters were being unjustifiably fined on Quebec roads by game wardens.

The letter said U.S. citizens had been halted, their cars searched and fined $100 on the spot if flashlights containing more than two small batteries were found. The regulation cited was one forbidding use of "jacklights" in hunting deer and moose.

(Game officials in Ottawa said the usual jacklight was something in the nature of a car light powered by a six-cell battery. When deer and moose come out to the meadows to eat at night, they virtually freeze when caught in the light beam.)

The letter added that a warden submits a paper in French in which the offence is admitted and which the alleged offender signs.

The letter said this had happened Sept. 22 to Carl Jensen,

Bruce Bertram and John Caniff. When they complained to the game warden in nearby Hull, he said the warden had no authority to assess and collect the fine.

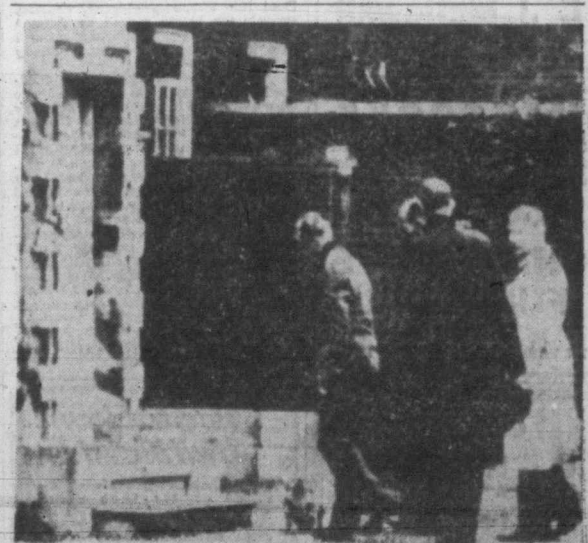

(In Maniwaki: Friday, Game Warden J. D. McFaul said he had acted on instructions from Quebec City in seizing hundreds of so-called jacklights and other illegal equipment and said it was believed a widespread scheme of black market selling of Canadian game and fish in the United States had been broken by the seizures.)

2 Bobby-Soxers Face 38 Charges

WINNIPEG (CP)—Thirty-eight charges of forgery and uttering faced two alleged members of a bobby-sox gang of six girls when they appeared in police court here today. The girls are held responsible for thefts of family allowances cheques from private mail boxes during the last 10 months.

The two, Irene Charlotte Hudson, 20, and Josephine McKeen, 21, were remanded until Monday without plea.

The four other alleged members of the gang all about 16 years of age, were turned over to juvenile court authorities following their arrest earlier this week.

DETECTIVES SEEK DUCAL JEWELS—Duke of Windsor (wearing scarf) enters Ednam Lodge, the Windsors' present temporary residence at Sunningdale, near London, from where the Duchess reported the theft of $80,000 worth of jewelry. With the Duke is Detective Inspector Capstick of Scotland Yard, shown in light coat.

Door Not Closed On Renewed Conference With Provinces, Says Premier King

OTTAWA (CP)—Prime Minister King, replying to a letter he received Thursday from Premier Drew of Ontario, denied the Dominion government had closed the door on requests for resumption of the Dominion-Provincial Conference.

"There has been no closing of any door," said Mr. King. "The people of Canada have not forgotten the circumstances which occasioned the adjournment of the conference in May last. It is the situation disclosed at that time which causes the Dominion government to feel that it would be inadvisable to have the conference reassemble before the provinces have indicated their attitude toward the proposals of the Dominion government."

"In this connection, may I again mention that thus far the Dominion government has been given no indication of the position of the government of Ontario respecting the proposals made in the Dominion budget."

QUICK RELEASE

Mr. King released copies of the text of his letter Friday night, shortly after it had been mailed to Mr. Drew.

He also charged the Dominion with exerting unfair pressure on some provinces to have them accept revised federal tax agreement proposals outlined in the budget June 27. He said the Dominion had given no assurances it would respect the taxing powers of the provinces in fields other than the income tax.

In reply, Mr. King said that "in your letter you state that you wish to keep the record straight." "This renders it necessary for me to draw attention to statements in your letter which do not accord with the record."

Mr. Drew, said the Prime Minister, had stated the Dominion had undertaken a solemn contractual obligation to reduce its taxes when the wartime tax agreements of 1942 should expire.

"This statement would seem to imply that that obligation was not being met by the Dominion government," said Mr. King. "The fact is that in fulfillment of that obligation Parliament has already approved the reduction, from Jan. 1 next, of income and corporation taxes. Moreover, this is the second reduction in Dominion income taxes since the end of the war."

NO PLEA MADE

"You state that: 'The emergency created by its peacetime commitments and duplication of services in utter disregard of its promises is now pleaded by the Dominion government as the reason the provinces are to be denied their rights in 1946.' No such plea has ever been made by the Dominion government. . . . What we have done is to offer the provincial governments compensation for the use of certain tax fields in the form of what we believed to be a fair annual rental."

The Dominion government was not insisting the provinces continue to stay out of the income and corporation tax fields.

DUPLICATION QUESTION

He denied that the Dominion had refused to give any undertaking that it would avoid duplication of taxes. The Dominion's wish to avoid duplication had led to the offer to rent the income and corporation tax fields from the provinces. The Dominion was prepared to consider any offer the provinces might make to rent the exclusive use of minor direct tax fields.

"In other words, we are prepared to consider exactly the same kind of offer as we ourselves have made," said Mr. King.

"The Dominion government is not asking the provinces to surrender any of their jurisdiction. For identical reasons we are not prepared to alienate any of the jurisdiction given to the Dominion Parliament by the British North America Act."

Mr. Drew had claimed that at no time had Ontario asked for a larger annual payment than was actually offered by the Dominion.

"The fact is," Mr. King wrote, "that, over and above the annual payments to the provinces, the Ontario proposal involves added burdens and substantial additional losses of revenue to the Dominion treasury."

The Dominion had given assurances that, except to meet a national emergency, the rates of certain minor taxes would not be increased. Steps had been taken to make it possible for provinces, not entering into new tax agreements, to re-enter pre-war tax fields without imposing hardship on the residents of those provinces.

QUEBEC'S POSITION

Replying to Mr. Drew's statement that Premier Duplessis of Quebec had given the May conference his assurance he was ready to return for discussions when the Dominion was prepared to show some co-operation, Mr. King said:

"As all who were present at the conference are fully aware, the fact is that despite repeated requests from the representatives of the Dominion and of provincial governments, the Premier to whom reference is made, at no time stated what were the concrete terms on which his province was prepared to make an agreement."

Squelch Rumors Churchill Dead

LONDON (CP)—Rumors circulating in Toronto that Winston Churchill had "dropped dead" were squelched indignantly Friday by the former Prime Minister's secretary, who told Canadian Press by telephone from Mr. Churchill's Westham, Kent, country home: "He is very well. Good heavens, I'm glad to say he's fine and he's right here now."

Armory, Squadron Please Ex-Officers

Members of the Air Force Officers' Association of Vancouver Island welcomed the news Friday that Victoria is to have a Royal Canadian Air Force armory and reportedly, an auxiliary squadron equipped with both training planes and jet-propelled fighters.

The association has pressed for both these developments. According to A. W. J. Smith, president of the association, and a former squadron leader in the R.C.A.F., the auxiliary squadron probably will consist of 300 men, including 50 permanent force personnel.

Woods Stayed In Germany Specially To Hang German War Criminals

(The U.S. soldier hangman at the Nuernberg executions has written his story for Associated Press. Master Sgt. John C. Woods, short, chunky and 43, has been in the U.S. army off and on for 19 years. He landed in Normandy on D-Day and also saw combat in Africa. He declined to give his hometown because "there's no use bringing my family into this," but army records show he enlisted from Wichita, Kas.)

HEIDELBERG, Germany (AP)—I hanged those 10 Nazis at Nuernberg and I'm proud of it. That was a job that needed doing for a long time. I did a good job of it, too. Everything clicked perfectly. I've hanged 347 people in the last 15 years and I never saw a hanging go off any better. I'm only sorry Goering escaped. I wanted him especially.

HAS NO NERVES

I wasn't nervous. I haven't got any nerves. A fellow can't afford to have nerves in this business.

But this Nuernberg job was one I really wanted to do. I wanted that assignment so bad I stayed over here after I could have gone back home, just to do it. Those guys really deserved hanging.

I'll say this for those Nazis, though. They died like brave men. Only one of them showed any signs of weakening. When Frick was climbing those 13 steps of the gallows one leg seemed to go bad on him, and the guards had to steady him.

They were all arrogant. Old Jew-baiter Streicher looked right at me when he said, "The Bolsheviks will hang you, too, some day." And I looked him back, right in the eye. They can't bother me.

There's not much to tell about the actual hangings. They went off just like any routine

GOD HEALED HIM

★ "I dressed his wounds, and God healed him," was the modest statement of the great French physician, Pare. It was he who first insisted on cleanliness and fresh air for his patients.

These things now are accepted as the minimum essentials for health, although in the sixteenth century they were revolutionary. Medical science has traveled a long road since the days of Pare. Some diseases have been eliminated, others drastically curtailed. Given full co-operation, physicians could eradicate many of the infectious diseases still rampant today. It is up to you to take advantage of the knowledge your physician possesses.

Samoan Stowaways May Join U.S. Army

The four South Sea Islanders, Pele Michael, Talapusi Gaoupu, Sialofu Talo and Foe S. Alo, who spent a week in Canadian immigration buildings here after reaching this port from Pago-Pago aboard the Ss. Flyaway as stowaways, will be able to join the U.S. Army as they had wished to do, it was reported Friday.

After leaving here Saturday aboard the Flyaway, the four youths were taken to Portland, where V. W. Tomlinson, immigration agent, said their offences of stowing away and entering the U.S. without passports had been overlooked and they were free to enter military service.

The service would include the transport of passengers and freight.

Channel To Be Gouged Around Log Jam In Cowichan River

DUNCAN—A jam of logs which occurred last winter in the Cowichan River, two miles above Skutz Falls, is to be cleared away by an unusual method.

A new channel for the river will be cut around the log-jam, one of the biggest in the history of the river, by a bulldozer. The river will then flow clear of the jam and the logs, it is expected, will be dry enough by next year to burn.

The Dominion Department of Fisheries, concerned because the jam might prevent fish from passing up-river to their spawning grounds, and the larger logging companies of the Cowichan Lake area are co-operating in the work, with David Madill representing the logging companies.

A road has been rough-graded from the Cowichan Lake Road to the scene of the log-jam, so that the equipment for cutting the new river-channel can reach the site.

Colwood W.I. Meets

COLWOOD—Members of the Colwood Institute voted $25 at a meeting in Colwood Hall to the Memorial Fund, established to provide a scholarship for a rural girl who wishes to study home economics at the University of British Columbia.

It was reported from Queen Alexandra Solarium that the institute's donation of $25 will be used to buy special shoes for patients.

Mrs. J. C. Postous reviewed the recent Women's Institute conference.

Members were asked to donate imperishable food or clothing so that a hamper can be sent overseas. The donations will be brought to the November meeting.

A potato-growing contest was won by Mrs. W. Hall, Mrs. S. Lang and Mrs. E. Wishart, it was announced.

Wisner Urges Long Terms For Narcotics

VANCOUVER (CP)—A seven-year maximum prison sentence for narcotic addicts was advocated here Friday by Attorney-General Gordon Wisner as part of a plan for the elimination of the "racketeers' market" in the forbidden traffic.

Under the plan, addicts would go to prison until they get narcotics "out of their system," then receive rehabilitation aid.

When cured—in six months or so—addicts would be released, but would go back to prison for the seven years if caught in known narcotic drug traffic centres such as Vancouver, Winnipeg, Toronto and Montreal.

The plan proposed by Mr. Wisner has the endorsement of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police.

Law enforcement officers here said illicit narcotic trafficking—a No. 1 crime breeder—is flourishing in Canada on a more profitable scale than in prewar days, and that Vancouver is one of the major centres.

It is estimated that in Vancouver alone, addicts cost citizens $8,000 a day. They need that much for purchase of narcotics, and the officers said it comes from hold-ups, burglary and petty thefts.

WHAT OF THE NEXT CONGRESS?

ON THE FIFTH DAY OF NEXT MONTH the people of the United States will elect their 80th Congress. The constitution requires that one-third of the 96 members of the Senate retire every two years. Twenty-four months is the life of the House of Representatives; all its 435 members must then be re-elected. When the 79th Congress wound up its business a few weeks ago the political strength was divided approximately as follows:

Senate: Democrats 56, Republicans 39, Progressive 1—Total 96.
House: Democrats 236, Republicans 190, American Labor 1, Progressive 1, Vacancies 7—Total 435.

Particular interest centres in next month's contest because it will be the first test of electoral opinion with Mr. Truman at the helm of state at the half-way mark of his term. Republican hopes are running high because the latest Gallup Poll indicates that the President's prestige as measured by this yardstick of public opinion has declined from an 87 per cent approval of his conduct a few months after he took office to a score of only 32 per cent a few days ago. Several factors have probably conspired to bring about this change in Mr. Truman's personal popularity. Some of it may be traced to his split with Mr. Wallace, his attitude toward price control, his handling of the complex relations between labor and management. To what extent, if any, the present standing of the chief executive as computed by the Gallup method of taking the popular pulse will affect the individual fortunes of Congressional aspirants will be revealed in the late hours of Nov. 5.

Back of the factors to which we have referred, of course, is a truism that American political labels—at least those of the two major traditional parties—have ceased to mean a great deal. The forthcoming vote may even add to the confusion and leave the average voter wondering what cohesive force there is, if any, that will be strong enough to hold together the present party alignments between this and the presidential election day on the first Tuesday after the first Monday of November, 1948. Once upon a time a voter would say he was a Democrat because he believed in states' rights, or a Republican because he was a protective tariff advocate. But it would seem that those easy distinctions—and they have their counterparts in the two old-line parties in Canada—have largely disappeared.

While the war and the wartime President were very strong cohesive factors, the inner seams of both parties seem to have weakened as many changes have loosened the grip of these forces. For example, there are now Southern Democrats, Truman Democrats and Wallace Democrats; Taft Republicans, Dewey Republicans and Stassen Republicans. And the conditions seem to be even more complicated than these divisions suggest. For within the orbit of the Democratic Party are the C.I.O.-P.A.C., the Independent Citizens' Committee of the Arts, Sciences and Professions, the Communist, American Labor and Liberal Parties (all three of which are supporting the Democratic slate in New York), Senator Bilbo and Governor Gene Talmadge. That line-up represents a good deal of incompatibility. But there is even more than appears on the surface. The C.I.O. is inwardly split on Russia and Communism. The American Federation of Labor's increasing coolness toward the C.I.O. and the Truman administration might indicate a general A.F.L. drift back toward the Republican Party. This would add variety to a mixture which is considerably varied already.

Canada's concern in the Nov. 5 elections would become substantial only if a new Congress should cause the foreign policy of the United States to depart to any extent from the bipartisan outlook which took shape when Mr. Cordell Hull laid the solid foundations for the United Nations Organization. There appears to be little likelihood of this in view of the huge external commitments into which our neighbor has entered. Canadians will nevertheless watch the outcome with lively interest.

A CYCLIST'S DREAM

VISITORS TO THE "BRITAIN CAN Make It" Exhibition in London have been deeply impressed by the bicycle of the future on display there. The description of this machine reveals a capacity to free-wheel a thousand yards up a hill of one-in-ten gradient, thanks to a built-in battery which is co-ordinated with the pedal apparatus. Unusual features include a miniature radio device, an electric bell button, a brake system operated by a twist of the handlebars, lights in the mudguard, a Yale-type anti-theft lock, a concealed parking stand and a shaft propulsion system replacing the usual chain. The bicycle, moreover, is 15 per cent lighter than the average present-day product and will be appreciably cheaper. To use the vernacular, the machine is a cyclist's dream. And that is the catch. Although the demonstration model is now on display, commercial production is impossible for several years.

NAVY WEEK

MIXED ANXIETY AND PRIDE KEPT Canada's wartime interest in her navy a constant force during those days when her ships and her sons sought and found the enemy at sea. Those were days both of glory and tragedy, shining pages in the nation's history, a time of vital achievement not gained without loss. It was a time, too, when security regulations screened from the public many of the advancements in the science and equipment of naval warfare. It was an era of tremendous growth within the service which accomplished so much in helping to maintain the flow of supplies to the battle line.

Now, for the first time since the end of hostilities, the Dominion observes the renewal of its Navy Week under the joint sponsorship of the Navy League of Canada and the Royal Canadian Navy. During the next seven days many events will be held to bring home to the people of this country the status their navy has gained. In this Pacific coast station, civilians will be permitted to inspect establishments, to visit ships and to achieve some understanding of equipment, operations and training that could not be publicized while hostilities continued. These opportunities afford more than the chance to satisfy idle curiosity over various points in plant and method. They open the door to greater familiarity with numerous details of the senior service to whose peacetime strength many young Victorians will be drawn. And not the least of the week's objectives will be to call attention to the important work carried on by the Navy League in the interests of Sea Cadets and other departments of this arm of national defence.

SCIENTIFIC SNOOZING

WE SEE WHERE SCIENCE, HAVING pretty well solved the problem of how to blow up or poison most of mankind, is again turning its attention to the familiar but still baffling phenomenon of sleep. At least some of the General Electric scientists are tackling it. They are investigating, we understand, the claim of some experts that it is the quality of the sleep you get in your first few hours in bed that counts. They are also investigating meteorological and seasonal factors. And they have already discovered that women are colder than men; lower metabolism, that is why.

What may come of all this is a two-control automatic blanket, and perhaps one that can be heated regionally, or zonally, on each side. We are all for that, as any sensible person is bound to be. We do not know what such a gadget would do for sleep, but it looks like a great boon to domestic felicity. We can see only one drawback. By time time Johnny and Willie get the port and starboard sides of the electric blanket adjusted and have made further regional fore-and-aft regulations to their liking, it is just possible that one or more of those refreshing early sleeping hours might be gone.

IMPORTANT READING

IN ACCORDANCE WITH HIS CUSTOM of the last few years, Police Chief J. A. McLellan has recently issued a modernized edition of the small booklet "Victoria, B.C., Traffic Rules." Contained in its pages are regulations covering driving, parking, bicycle riding and other matters concerning the use of streets and highways. The pamphlet takes little time to read. Its information is set forth in simple form and its contents should be general knowledge to all citizens. Close adherence to the laws it lists and the advice it gives can do much to cut down the number of accidents which cause injury, loss of life and property damage. And, in a smaller way, observance of the regulations can save the motorist from the annoyance and inconvenience of contributing those small but irritating donations to the city's coffers for leaving cars standing too long in the wrong places.

AUTUMN SCENE

A FOOTBALL SPIRALS THROUGH THE cool afternoon air. Below, the racing feet of players rushing to retrieve it pound out a vigorous rhythm. There is the thud of a ball well caught, the weaving pattern of a broken field run, the heavy impact of a tackle. This is the autumn scene as it catches the clear eye of youth and the young in heart—a spectacle as rich to them as the splendor of color in changing trees and the profusion of the season's harvest. Here is the triumph of sturdy bodies, quick coordination, the smooth flow of team play, the challenge of combat and the healthy appeal of rugged body contact.

It is a physical spectacle, but in it lie elements that are intangible—the quick strategy of attack and defence, the unswerving loyalty of teammates, the unselfishness of shared opportunities, the creation of an opening, and the throbbing exultation of a run completed, a score made.

These are the threads that weave the players into the fabric of their game, that spur firm muscles and straining lungs to their ultimate test, that bind the bonds of fellowship close around the team. These are the glories that grow greater in the retelling of the shower room and, long after, from the armchair that offers rest to tiring legs and stiffening sinews. Here is a chapter in the book of autumn that glows brightly through the passing years.

NOTES

The world pays for service. Nobody begrudges Bing his millions because he has given us that much pleasure.

The chief difference between ignorant and educated sinners is that the educated ease their consciences by sophistry instead of repentance.

Walter Lippmann

PRESIDENT TRUMAN AND MR. REECE AS AN INDICATION of things to come in the United States the speech by the chairman of the Republican National Committee, Mr. Carroll Reece, is in many ways more interesting than President Truman's. For while the Democratic party still holds the offices, the Republicans have steadily been acquiring the powers of government.

Since Mr. Truman became President, and even for some time before, Mr. Taft and Mr. Martin have exercised an effective veto power in domestic legislation. Moreover, it would not be too much to say that their general views, except on party politics, more nearly reflect those of Mr. Truman and his intimate advisers than do the official pronouncements of the President. In addition, since last winter Mr. Vandenberg has had a dominating, if not a dominant, influence in foreign policy.

THE REPUBLIC HAS been experiencing the transfer of power from the Democrats to the Republicans, and during this period the Democrats have reigned but not ruled. They have had the nominal responsibility but they have not had the reality of power. They have held the offices without much conviction that they ought to hold them.

Thus Mr. Truman's speech was that of a man who not only had to give up, but was almost glad that the time had come to give up, a struggle which he disliked and had never greatly believed in. Mr. Reece's speech was that of a man who has every reason to believe that his party, which enjoyed an ever growing power, is now in sight of the day when it may have to assume the responsibility of government as well.

MR. REECE WAS NOT quite sure in his own mind whether he thinks Mr. Truman has bungled the business of controlling the transition from war to peace, or whether, on the contrary, he should take the position that it was a mistake, in fact a Communist infiltration into American life, to attempt to control the transition. So, being a practical politician, he took both lines.

He gave a reasonably accurate and searching account of how, beginning in 1944, when rationing was undermined, the Administration messed up the control of reconversion. He was as indignant over all that as if he had wanted the control to succeed, and was now as sorry as Mr. Wallace or P.A.C. that it had not.

But he also argued most forcefully that the very idea of controlling the reconversion was abhorrent and repulsive, radical and red, and without saying it, he certainly implied that the right course would have been to remove all controls immediately at the end of the war, and perhaps never to have imposed them during the war.

MR. REECE DID NOT try to make himself perfectly clear on these points, preferring, it would seem, to have each person think he had said what that person would wish him to have said.

In any event the postwar price controls had collapsed when Mr. Truman decided to abandon them. They had become worse than useless, once rationing had been abandoned and the price and wage ceilings had been punctured at a thousand points. The tattered remnants of the control served only to disrupt the operation of the market; they no longer regulated the market. The effect was as demoralizing as prohibition, in that the authority and the good faith of government were being undermined. So, since the control could not be administered effectively and with general public support, it was better to scrap it.

But the end of control will have far-reaching consequences.

IN DOMESTIC affairs this marks the end of the period when popular discontent could be focused upon government, as it has been since the New Deal passed its peak in 1937. Gradually, but more and more, business primarily and labor in some measure will be held directly responsible, as business was in the twenties, for the course of events. And so the fate of the last great free economy in the world will almost certainly depend on whether business and the Republican party manage affairs so as to prevent or to bring on another 1929.

Some day, therefore, Mr. Taft ought to state what he has learned from the twenties, and what he would now do differently when the Republicans come into power.

IN THE OUTER world the return of the United States to a policy of essential laissez-faire will accentuate the differences, already quite clearly visible, among the western powers, Britain, France, and western Europe can not and will not follow the social and economic course the U.S. is taking. This is sure to be reflected in their diplomacy, and in that of the United States.

The world will not divide into two blocs but into at least three—the Soviet, the West European socialist, and the American laissez-faire capitalist. The interaction of these systems and regimes will be infinitely more complicated than any one is as yet able to understand clearly enough to foresee the outcome.

Quoting

When one realizes that the death-dealing power of all wars combined throughout history is insignificant compared to nature's lethal agents such as the black and bubonic plagues, there is reason to assume that our greatest wars will not be with human beings or the greatest dangers from atomic bombs, but with the hordes of insects, viruses and microbes that prey upon us.—Dr. H. E. Fritz, U.S. rubber researcher.

Every FATHER

...should answer these questions:

"How much are my savings really WORTH?" The cash value of your savings is not what counts most. What is important is the amount of continuous income they would provide, if your wife and children were left without other means of support. In most cases ordinary savings can't provide enough! That is why you need life insurance... "Is it important WHICH life insurance company I choose?" It is! Life insurance companies are much alike as to policies and rates, but actual long-term results vary widely. We invite you to compare The Mutual Life of Canada's record with that of any other company. Evidence of the satisfaction of our policyholders is furnished by the fact that whole families and succeeding generations have entrusted their life insurance programs exclusively to The Mutual Life of Canada, and each year approximately 35% of its new business comes from policyholders. Ask your Mutual Life representative to explain the special features of this Company.

What Should A Wife Do When Husband Asks For A Divorce?

Mr. and Mrs. Fernster had been happily married for 10 years. Then one night her husband asked her for a divorce, stating he was in love with another woman. The love of their four children didn't matter to Mr. Fernster, he still wanted his divorce. Mrs. Fernster refused him and immediately set out on a plan to win her husband back. She was assisted in her scheming by Dr. Clifford R. Adams, director of Marriage Counselling Service, Pennsylvania State College. Mrs. Fernster's case and the problems of five other wrecked marriages which he helped save is told in the article "Five Ways to Keep a Husband" on page 38 of the November edition of Woman's Home Companion Magazine, now on sale at your magazine dealers. Women's Home Companion is distributed on Vancouver Island by Lovick's News Agency, Victoria, B.C.

Report Coal Survey In North Encouraging

Coal deposits in the Peace River district, upon which the extension of the provincially-owned P.G.E. Railway is contingent, may prove greater than earlier suggested, latest reports on the progress of the province's resources survey in the area show.

Dr. T. B. Williams, provincial petroleum and natural gas commissioner, who is supervising the geological survey of coal resources in the Hasler Creek district, has advised the government that stripping of a seam has disclosed a formation giving signs of a much larger deposit than was first thought likely.

The stripping is being done by bulldozer while diamond drilling is proceeding to determine the depth of the seams.

To Our Transportation Patrons:

Now that integration of B.C. Electric and Blue Line transportation routes is in operation, we wish to explain that the service at present being provided is solely on a temporary basis and that, because of circumstances beyond our control, it must remain so until the Transportation Franchise for Greater Victoria has been finally settled.

This means that B.C. Electric can make no definite plans, at the moment, to seek additional equipment, even if this were immediately available, to supplement the overall service because it is impossible to forecast what may be required in this respect until the Franchise Agreement has been definitely finalized.

B.C. Electric fully realizes there are often crowded conditions, but feels sure transportation patrons can appreciate the difficulties under which the Company is obliged to operate its service and that it can count on their understanding and co-operation under the unusual and difficult circumstances.

B.C. ELECTRIC

Dorothy Dix

Dear Dorothy Dix: My husband is coming home from overseas very soon and we are planning on going on our honeymoon, as we didn't have a chance to take one when we were married. But the trouble is this: We have a 27-month-old baby and my husband insists that we leave him with his mother until we get back, and I am determined to take him with us. I am sure I wouldn't enjoy my trip without him. Besides this, he is very spoiled and has tantrums and I don't think my mother-in-law would put up with him.

We will do whatever you say.
MRS. H. R. C.

Answer: Well I say—have a heart. Show some consideration for your husband and also for all the innocent bystanders on the train by leaving your baby at home. Otherwise you will spoil the honeymoon trip for your husband, and lessen the chances of his sneaking off at some way station and go AWOL.

Travel is not for babies, and why so many mothers who could leave their infants at home, where they will be safe and comfortable, drag them around the country is a mystery that nobody can explain. But it is hard on the infant and has resulted in the death of many a poor innocent little kid. So leave your baby with Grandma when you go off on a pleasure jaunt and (happy thought) perhaps in your absence your mother-in-law will straighten out the baby whom you admit you have spoiled and cure him of his tantrums.

Get Quick Relief from RHEUMATIC Pain

"For 3 years, I suffered greatly from Rheumatic pain and tried many remedies without getting relief," writes Mrs. A. Enns, Niverville, Man. "The sharp pains in the muscles of my feet made it hard to get about. My flesh was sore to the touch and I was often in great misery, particularly if I got overtired or whenever the weather was damp. I am only 35 years of age and thought I was very unfortunate indeed to suffer so severely from a Rheumatic condition while still a young woman. Then I learned of Templeton's T-R-C's. Right from the start, T-R-C's gave me relief."

Don't let Rheumatic Pain and stiffness keep you from enjoying a normal, active, happy life. Get fast, safe relief with Templeton's T-R-C's. Used and recommended by thousands, T-R-C's are specially made to relieve Rheumatic, Arthritic, Neuritic Pain and Stiffness, Lumbago, Sciatica, Neuralgia. 50c, $1 and $2 all druggists.

Constitution For White Cane Club

The Victoria White Cane Club which was formed to provide social entertainment for blind men and women of Victoria, is proving a great success, according to E. J. Turner, of 3155 Millgrove Street.

He said the club is at present on a trial run till the end of 1946, and early next year it will be given a constitution and affiliated with similar clubs throughout the Dominion.

The club, which is under the management of its energetic president, Mrs. George Watling, holds its weekly gatherings at the Prince Robert House every Thursday afternoon. Any blind person who is registered with the Canadian National Institute for the Blind is eligible for membership.

A friendly group of sightless men and women meet each Thursday afternoon and various forms of entertainment are provided by the members themselves. A concert and community singing occupies the first afternoon of each month, while on other Thursdays debates are arranged and are always greatly enjoyed by the members. Occasionally speakers are invited to address the gathering.

The club hopes to obtain information on various parts of the British Empire by inviting speakers who have traveled or resided in different sections of the Empire.

Next Thursday, Oct. 25, a debate will be held under the guidance of E. Browning. The subject is "Resolved That Women Are More Efficient in Industry Than Men."

Following the debate, while tea is being served, F. Lavery will entertain members and their guides with music of the good old days. A good turnout is expected.

Wage Move By 400,000

Exact wage demands will not be disclosed, he said, until approved by C.I.O. president Philip Murray.

BY PETE SALLAWAY

RECOGNIZED as one of the best-like personalities in big league baseball, Ralph (Red) Kress, head coach of the New York Giants of the National League, gave out with some interesting sidelights on baseball in general during the course of two-hour chat Thursday. Kress, who received a nice fat bonus from the management of the Giants at the close of the recent season despite the fact the club finished in the cellar, "is one man in the majors who hasn't got a single enemy," to quote Herb Hester, veteran Minneapolis baseball official, who handles the promotion job for the touring major leaguers.

KRESS, after hearing about the feats of big Bob Jensen, with the Victoria Athletics in the W.I. B.L. displayed a keen interest in the right-hand pitching star inasmuch as Jensen belongs to the San Francisco Seals of the Coast League who have a close working agreement with the Giants. "We will play several exhibition games with the Seals in spring training next year and I'll make certain to take a good look at Jensen," Kress told me. When asked what he thought of Larry Jensen's chances in the big time next season Kress smiled and remarked: "I only hope he's better than the last 30-game winner the Giants got from San Francisco (Kress was referring to Bob Joyce). Every time he went in to pitch for us everybody on the opposing team, including the bat boy wanted to grab a stick and get up there and hit. Joyce just made them too good."

WHEN ASKED about the popularity of night baseball in the major leagues, Kress expressed the opinion the clubs would eventually have to engage in more of them. "Teams like the St. Louis Browns and Washington Senators would never hit their present attendance marks without the advantage of the big crowds they get to the arenas engagements," he said. "Take the Giants for instance. Last season we played 14 night engagements and every one of them was another Sunday, a sell-out. The club even posted notices in the clubhouse that any of the players or coaches who wanted reserved seats for guests or friends for a night game would have to book them a month ahead."

IN REGARD to the post-season tours of the major league players Kress said he was confident that next season it would be possible to organize two teams composed of outstanding players from the National and American leagues and take them on the road to play against one another. "In that way the fans would get an opportunity to watch a much better exhibition as the competition would be keen," he said. "In these games against amateur teams our pitching is always too potent with the result the spectators do not see enough fielding action on the part of the big league players. We hope to draft a schedule taking in the best towns in plenty of time to provide for good advance publicity and in that way we can really build these tours into something worth while."

TOMORROW afternoon in Seattle the rabid patrons of the Washington city will get a real treat when the touring club that played here goes up against Bob Feller's all-stars. On the mound for the Kress-managed club will be Freddie Hutchinson, pride of Seattle, and now with Detroit Tigers, with Feller throwing for the opposition. The advance ticket sale the first day was a cool $5,000. For the past week Hutchinson, who beat Feller in one of the closing games of the American League season, has been working out at the University of Washington gym in preparation for tomorrow's engagement.

Macdonald's Beat Chinese 37-29 In Feature Cage Tilt

Lou McCorkill's Macdonald's took the measure of the Chinese Students 37 to 29 in the feature of the Victoria and District League three-game card at the high school last night. It was the first appearance of the season for all of the teams and as a result the shooting was not up to form.

In a senior C tilt, the newly-formed Army and Navy Vets copped the decision from Mooney's Crescents 38 to 27. K.V.'s juniors had little trouble in downing Spencer's 28 to 8.

Bill Page racked up 16 points for Macdonald's as they broke a half-time score of 17-all with a flurry of baskets early in the third quarter and went on to outplay the Students throughout the second half. George Lowe and Ed Fong topped the Chinese Students with eight and seven points, respectively.

Mooney's Crescents, under manager Clarence Uttke, had trouble finding the hoop in the first half in their game with the Vets. They came back after the breather to stay on even terms with the victors, but the half-time lead was too much to overcome.

K.V.'s showed far too much power and hoop sense for Jimmy Morrison's Spencers five. Tonight's games at the High School will see Army and Navy Vets tangle with K.V.'s in a senior A tussle at 9, preceded by an intermediate B boys match between Ermas and K.V.'s. The curtain-raiser at 7 will see Hep Cats and Hot Shots meeting in a girls game.

Teams and scores:
Students—Quinton Won (2), Peter Leung (2), Jimmy Chow (2), Jimmy Fong (3), Ed Fong (7), George Lowe (8), Hank Chang, Yoye Mar (5).
Macdonald's—Lou McCorkill (7), Sonny Gicas (4), Neil Sprinkling, Doug Malcolm (3), Bill Page (16), Bob Lomas (2), Steve Brodigan (3).
Mooney's—George Brown (5), Al Hunt, Roy Scoble (4), Art Worth (2), Ray Barrett, John Ingram (5), Jack Smith, Clarence Uttke.
Vets—Alan Sead (6), Jack Lindsay (2), Dick Herlinveaux (12), Roy Bell (2), Cec Handy (9), Gordie Hayward, Pete McKenzie (1), Gerry Hetherington (6).

K.V.'s Ray Calton (2), Archie McIntosh (3), Bob Rowe (8), Doug Stewart (4), Buzz Hudson (2), Bruce Naylor, Cedric Robb, Ian Firth (9).
Spencer's—Norm Saunders (5), Ron Milligan (1), Dick Dale (2), Hugh Harris, Dave Main, Bill Kerr, John Ford, Pete Hodges, Ross Irvine, McCormick.

Glitter Of Pro Boxing Attracts Amateur Titleholders Of Britain

By JACK SULLIVAN

LONDON (CP)—The glamour attached to amateur boxing is wearing thin, especially for the champions, and the British Amateur Boxing Association, noting the jump to professional ranks of four A.B.A. champions, is "discouraged" by it all. It hopes this idea of fighting for money is a "passing phenomenon."

The viewpoint of both boxer and the association is understandable. The fighters just can't afford to give and take bashing for the fun and excitement, the glow of being fit and the pure joy of combat—and the association is thinking of Britain's part in international contests and the 1948 Olympic Games.

Professional "scouts" attended the A.B.A. championships at Wembley Stadium last May 1 and the following day Eddie Thomas o. Merthyr, lightweight champion, signed professional forms. Flyweight champion Dick (Skeets) Gallacher of Glasgow was next.

The Randolph Turpin, 19-year-old colored middleweight who has the punch of a heavyweight, joined the earn-as-you-fight brigade. He was followed by Charlie Squires, bantamweight king just out of the R.A.F.

None of these fighters could afford to fight for fun. Squires, for instance, has a wife and child, and he wants a house. The only way he feels he can get it is with his fists.

Turpin, a cook in the navy, has no housing problems, but he is ambitious. He, like Thomas and Gallacher, can see a future in the ring which will bring financial security.

Boxing, like other sports in the country, is in the midst of a tremendous boom and they probably hope to catch on to promoter Jack Solomons whose latest idea in professional boxing is international team matches.

Solomons, already promoting in London, Dublin, Paris and Stockholm, is adding Brussels to his list with tentative plans to take four or five of the country's top boxers to Belgium in November and later to have the best of the Belgians in London.

Angling and Hunting

By 'CAP' THORSEN

Early today and again around the noon hour barrages of scatterguns resounded in various island localities as nimrods sought first bags of pheasants, California quail, willow grouse and various types of the geese and duck families, as the lid was pried off these new seasons.

De-tines referred to in the game regulations mean daylight saving or standard time? That is the question bothering a lot of hunters and Sid McCall at the Elliott Street game office reports "all are Pacific standard times."

Last reports from Cowichan Bay tell of better fishing. In the words of Don Peck: "Fishing is starting to hit its stride." He says the tides are now right for good fishing in the first half of the forenoon. Late last week the bay's coho were rising quite well to the fly, blue and white bucktails ahead on the popularity list.

A point of interest: Fishermen in order to qualify for buttons from the Cowichan Bay Coho Fly Fishing Club, must first purchase memberships.

NEW YORKER LAUDS COHO FISHING

In the opinion of R. C. Glime, New York, the Cowichan Bay coho fishing is far superior to the eastern salmon variety, on which he is something of an expert. This opinion was expressed after catching three coho this week, the largest going 14.6 pounds on a fly rod.

Among the locals who say "to heck with the fly if you can catch 'em on something else," and who were in the money this week at the bay, was T.C.A. bus driver Tiny Richards and Joe Lutz. On Wednesday they got six, using No. 3 Martin plugs, two ounces of weight and 30 to 40 feet of line. Harry Woolston checked in with a pair Thursday, bagged on Tom Mack spoons. Len Brookbank and Mickey Lutz scored two on the small plugs. Stan Williams used an abalone spoon to score a brace of the silvery specimens.

SAANICH INLET—GRILSE

Hugh Creed was up today to tell of good grilse offerings in the waters off Bamberton and Sandy Beach in Saanich Inlet. "There are some jacksprings, only a few coho." The grilse are on the larger size, going up to two pounds. Tom Mack spoons painted red on the inside have served Creed well with the small fish. He recommends light fishing, using two ounces of weight, 100 feet of line.

FLY FISHING—COWICHAN RIVER

Cowichan River's headwaters are offering some cutthroats for dry-fly fishermen. Several Victorians last week-end did well. George Purves reeled in a spanking 2½-pounder. The trio of Roger Monteith, Harry Pooley and Ned Tait reeled in around three and four a day between them over the last week-end. They were dry-fly fishing. On

Bernborough Finally Beaten Carrying Mere 150 Pounds

MELBOURNE (CP)—The 15-race winning streak of Bernborough, Australia's latest "wonder" horse, came to an end today when Royal Gem, a 33 to 1 outsider, won the classic Caulfield Cup at the Caulfield track.

Carrying top weight of 150 pounds—20 more than any other starter—the big seven-year-old bay finished fifth. He made a great finish in the stretch of the 1½-mile route, coming from last place, but failed to overhaul the leaders.

H. G. Warburton, racing writer of the Sydney Sun, said the result "proved again that no matter how great a horse might be, weight would beat him." Before the race bookmakers reported that they were so "loaded" with Bernborough money that they refused to accept any more bets.

Oct. 9, E. Watson took out three cutts, aggregating 10 pounds.

BREVITIES

There was quite a bit of chiding directed at Harry Woolston after he'd bungled the job of gaffing the coho Pete Sallaway had manoeuvred alongside the boat last Sunday at the up-island bay—and holidaying Harry, determined to make amends, spent a good part of the week combing the bay waters. He finally landed two, Thursday. The same night, as proud as a young fellow making his first moves with a razor, he arrived at the Times Sports Ed's house bearing a tissue-wrapped and beribboned parcel containing one of his two coho. In Roger Monteith's store they would like to set eyes again on the fellow who visited there this week and was left alone to admire a rod he had taken a fancy to. After he had left, it was discovered by Jack Harris that two of the snake lead (the eyes through which a line is threaded) had been cut off and taken away. Wilfreds Gouge, senior and junior, and Ken Godson, on a buck-chasing hunt in the country bordering Honey-moon Bay, Cowichan Lake, downed three antlered specimens last week-end, largest going 171 pounds.

ALOUETTES WIN

HAMILTON, Ont. (CP)—Montreal Alouettes moved into second place in the Interprovincial Rugby Football Union Friday night when they defeated Hamilton Tigers 19 to 0 on a field heavy with mud. The visitors showed speed despite the heavy going, and kept Tigers on the defensive most of the game. The Tigers had only two real scoring chances.

Yacht Club Members, R.C.N. In Races

Members of the Royal Victoria Yacht Club will compete with officers of the Royal Canadian Navy in sailing races in service whalers off Esquimalt and Royal Roads Sunday afternoon.

Humphrey Golby, R.Y.V.C. rear-commander, today asked that all club members with cars meet those members without at the corner of Government and Johnson Streets in sufficient time to make the rendezvous at H.M.C.S. Naden at 1 in the afternoon.

Victoria High Blacks In Basketball Win

Victoria High Blacks made their first game a winning one in the junior inter-high basketball series when they outplayed the Esquimalt High to finish on the right end of a 39 to 14 score. The game throughout was of a spotty nature with neither team showing to its best advantage.

Teams and scores follow:
Victoria High Blacks—B. Robinson 6, R. Ritchie 8, G. Stewart, D. Stewart 9, B. Naylor 6, G. Parker 2, Rowe 8, Maily, G. Pynn, C. Robb, P. Marr.

Esquimalt High—F. Merriman 2, T. Bishop, B. McConchey 4, B. Fleming 6, B. Sweeney 2, D. Fulmer, N. Kowalyk, T. Burns, B. Hissette, R. Johnston.

Frankie Parker In Tournament Final

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Frank

Parker of San Francisco, 1945 national singles tennis champion, entered the final round of the Pan-American singles championship Friday by defeating Bob Falkenberg of Hollywood, 6-2, 6-1, 2-6, 6-8, 12-10.

Pauline Betz of Los Angeles, the world's No. 1 woman player, who earlier in the day defeated Louise Brough in the women's singles semifinals, 6-1, 6-4, teamed with Doris Hart of Miami to defeat Carmen Christlieb and Esther Reyes of Mexico 6-2, 6-1, in the women's doubles semifinals.

Margaret Osborne, San Francisco, also entered the final round of the women's singles by trimming Doris Hart, 6-0, 6-2.

Major Hockey Clubs Face Rugged Schedule

All six National Hockey League teams draw up to the firing line tonight and tomorrow in a week-end of battling that gets the lengthened, 60-game schedule well under way, and should give the form players a chance to dope out how the race will go this year.

Headlining the four-game card is the Saturday night tilt at Montreal, where the Stanley Cup-holding Canadiens and Boston Bruins resume their rivalry where they left off last season.

Canucks took the cup last spring in a tough final series with Bruins, winning four out of five after three games went into overtime.

It should be a battle royal to-night since Canadiens have their championship line-up virtually intact and Bruins with their pre-war stars getting back in the groove, stand as tough opposition.

The 1946-47 season was officially inaugurated at Detroit Wednesday night when Red Wings and Toronto Maple Leafs battled to a 3 to 3 tie. On Thursday Canadiens handed a 3 to 0 blanketing to New York Rangers, who finished sixth last year. Bruins and Chicago Black Hawks, idle so far, will take off for the first time in the week-end program.

Besides the Bruins-Canadiens feature event, the Saturday card also includes a return engagement at Toronto between the Leafs and Wings.

Boston fans get the first sight of their favorites Sunday as Bruins come home to take on Chicago Black Hawks in the second leg of their initial week-end doubleheader.

The bill is completed with another Sunday game at Detroit, where Rangers are slated to show.

The blueshirts, caught in the housing shortage, have been working out at the rink in Verdun, Que., until they can get back on their own ice. The Garden, and Rangers don't get a circus is still in Madison Square chance to show their wares to the hometown customers until Oct. 30.

Victoria United Engages Nanaimo Upisland Tomorrow

Victoria United, who are improving with every game will journey to Nanaimo Sunday and take on the up-landers in a Coast League soccer match.

With two draws in their last two starts, the United, greatly strengthened by the addition of George Payne, Alan Reside and Noel Morgan, have high hopes of hitting the "win" column against the Nanaimo eleven.

Joe Travis, who turned in such a splendid game in the nets last week, will once again handle the goaltending duties for the locals. The remainder of the line-up will be practically the same as the one that finished up the match a week ago and outplayed St. Saviours in the final 45 minutes.

Earl Barnswell will probably start on right wing in place of Denny Shubrooke who may not be able to make the trip. Alf Jenkins and Morgan will flank centreforward Rookie Wright, while Payne will look after the left wing spot.

Red McMillan, Tom Fraser and Reside will handle the half-back duties, with Tommy Druce and captain Bobby Bell at the fullback positions.

Nip Sage, Ab Travis and Bobby Moss will also make the trip and will be available for relief duties.

It was also announced following Saturday's match that Gordie Cooper had tendered his resignation from the team.

Warns Against Illegal Parking

The city police are receiving many complaints about automobiles parked in front of driveways, thus obstructing access to the property.

Chief J. A. McLellan points out it is against the law to park a car in front of a driveway, or lane, the entrance to which is across a sidewalk or boulevard.

It is also a violation of the by-law to park cars in front of any firehall, theatre or church during service, or in front of the entrance to any place of business or opening in the sidewalk leading to a basement, when by so doing the loading and unloading of merchandise is obstructed.

Drew Says Premier King Had No Intention Of Calling Conference

SARNIA, Ont. (CP) — Prime Minister King "has no intention" of calling together a Dominion-Provincial Conference, Premier Drew of Ontario said today in a press release.

Mr. Drew issued a statement which said in part: "The public will see that (Mr. King) still has no intention of calling the adjourned conference together no matter how many words he uses to disguise the fact. He only offers to meet later at some new and different conference after the tax adjustments we were discussing last spring have been disposed of."

"The provinces must first bow to the arbitrary dictates that the Dominion government first announced to them in (Finance Minister) Isley's budget address. Having put what he believes to be a heavily-loaded financial gun at the heads of the provinces, Mr. King says in effect:

"I regret that I am compelled to do this, gentlemen. I know I am in honor bound to consult your wishes, but my government has decided how much of your money we need. I cannot therefore discuss that subject. As soon as you have emptied your pockets, however, I will be happy to put away the gun and sit around a table to discuss with you in a friendly way what part of your clothes you will be permitted to keep."

In an exchange of letters released Wednesday, Mr. Drew accused Mr. King of breaking faith with the provinces—seven of which had requested another session of the Dominion-Provincial Conference.

He said the need for basic agreement on financial relations

S.P.C.A. Defendants File Statement Denying Liability

R. D. Harvey, K.C., counsel for James Barr, president of the Victoria Branch of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, John L. Weeks and Donald Hamer, both S.P.C.A. inspectors, today filed in Victoria a statement of defence, denying liability of the defendants in a $3,000 libel action.

The action has been taken by Hyacinth Margaret Mellish, proprietress of a dog kennel, for alleged libel contained in two reports, one signed by the two S.P.C.A. inspectors and the other by James Barr.

The statement denies the liability of the defendants on the grounds that the statements containing the alleged libel are true in substance and in fact and that they were privileged as being in the course of the public and private duty of the defendants and were made without malicious intent.

Supreme Regent Of Royal Arcanum Here

Local councils of the Royal Arcanum throughout Canada and the United States are doing an immense amount of work for the welfare of their individual cities, William Ennis, Supreme Regent, Chicago, said today at the Empress Hotel.

Mr. Ennis addressed the Victoria Council of the Royal Arcanum Friday night, on his first official visit to the city. Accompanied by his wife, he is making a tour of councils in Canada and the United States which will take until February to complete.

Almost every local council has some service project, Mr. Ennis said. In Montreal, the council sponsors the Royal Arcanum Air Cadets, supplying the boys with uniforms, band instruments and instructors, and helping to keep the youngsters off the streets.

Elected Supreme Regent at an international convention of the Royal Arcanum in Portsmouth, N.H., in September, Mr. Ennis will head the fraternal organization for two years.

C.C.L. Shipyard Unionists Open Third Annual Convention Here

Malcolm MacLeod, president of the Shipyard General Workers' Federation (C.C.L.), told the federation's third annual convention here today, that "since the majority of the working population of this nation has still yet to accept membership in the trade union movement and the leadership it can give, greater co-operation among unions in the localities is necessary."

"Co-operation for action in every field of endeavor will bring about a greater degree of advance to labor's program," he said in his president's report.

Transport System Terms Ratified By Saanich Council

Subject to conditions contained in a letter from Vancouver Island Coach Lines Ltd., calling for changes in the franchise held by the company in Saanich if the B.C. Electric Co. is awarded the Greater Victoria transportation system franchise, the Saanich Council Friday night ratified specifications for tenders on the unified transportation system.

Approval of the specifications by Saanich opened the way for insertion of advertisements in newspapers across Canada early next week calling for tenders. The plan is to advertise for tenders in Victoria, Vancouver, Winnipeg, Ottawa, Toronto and Montreal on Tuesday, the tenders to reach the City Hall by Nov. 22. The intermunicipal committee will make its recommendation on the bids within a week of the date on which they are opened.

The Saanich Council endorsed the specifications with little discussion after considering the Vancouver Island Coach Lines' letter, which said:

"Following our several interviews with your council and with your reeve, we beg to confirm that our company has an arrangement with the B.C. Electric Railway Company towards the development of a co-ordinated unified transportation system for Greater Victoria."

"In the event of a covering franchise for the area being granted to our two companies, then our company would be prepared to open negotiations to vary our present franchise with your municipality for a co-ordinated system of transportation throughout the Greater Victoria area, to be defined, upon conditions mutually acceptable to both the municipality and our company."

"Such negotiations would also include the treatment of lines in Saanich—extending beyond the Greater Victoria area, on a separate basis to be mutually agreed."

"We of course fully realize that we are obligated to your municipality under the statute by which we now serve its transportation requirements, and these negotiations will, of necessity, be without prejudice to our present relationship in this regard, by virtue of the statute under which we are at present operating."

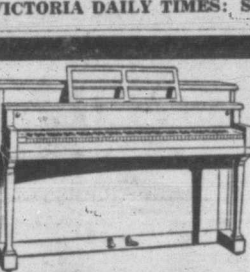

Transport Tenders To Be In Nov. 22

Tenders for the unified transportation system will be received at the City Hall up to 12 noon Nov. 22, Ald. H. M. Diggon, chairman of the Greater Victoria Transportation committee, announced today.

Advertisements calling for the bids were airmailed to newspapers in Toronto, Ottawa, Montreal, Winnipeg and Vancouver late Friday night after Saanich had approved the draft specifications, for insertion Tuesday.

Air Force Will Pay $12,000 For Water

The Air Force have offered to pay the City of Victoria $12,000 a year for water delivered to Patricia Bay if the city will undertake the operation of the Elk Lake water system, Ald. J. A. Worthington, water board chairman, announced following a meeting Friday.

The previous offer, which has been under consideration for some time was for the city to buy the system for $1 from the R.C.A.F. and supply the air force with 500,000 gallons of water daily free of charge.

The water board has offered Saanich the $12,000 from the Air Force, if the municipality wishes to take over the system on the same terms as before. Ald. Worthington said: "Water Commissioner G. M. Irwin has been instructed to make a study of the system to determine its daily capacity with the present equipment, and once this report is received Saanich be asked to investigate the costs and feasibility of distributing water to the sections of the municipality where an adequate supply has been difficult to obtain."

Sea Cadet Parade Marks Opening Of Navy Week In City

A parade of Royal Canadian Sea Cadets to Christ Church Cathedral at 11 Sunday morning will mark the beginning of Navy Week which will be nationally observed throughout Canada and is of special significance because this is the Navy League's golden jubilee.

To observe the occasion, extensive plans have been made here for the public to inspect Royal Canadian Navy facilities and equipment at Esquimalt and to inspect the three warships, Uganda, Crescent and Charlotte-town.

Established in 1896, the Navy League is a Dominion-wide organization devoted to Canada's maritime interests and to the Royal Canadian Sea Cadets.

Of its 23 clubs and recreation centres operated during the war, 12 are still carrying on, including Prince Robert House here, and the Sea Cadet movement is attracting more and more attention as a valuable youth-training program.

OAK BAY-PLAZA THEATRE

"The Wicked Lady," now at the Oak Bay and Plaza Theatres, stars Margaret Lockwood and James Mason. Filmgoers will remember the dramatic scenes between these two stars in "The Man in Grey" and will look forward eagerly to seeing Margaret Lockwood as Barbara, who has a love affair with the gallant highwayman, Captain Jackson, played by James Mason, in their new film.

YORK THEATRE

The film version of "Jane Eyre," which is now at the York Theatre, is one of the first movies of the "romantic era" in which players are permitted to "talk up" to their clothes, according to the authoritative Orson Welles, who co-stars with Joan Fontaine in the 20th Century-Fox picture.

ATLAS THEATRE

The largest number of film juveniles for one production in more than three years was used by M-G-M for its picturization of "Boys' Ranch," currently at the Atlas Theatre.

A total of 50 moppets, ranging in age from five to 15 years and headed by the popular Jackie "Butch" Jenkins, appear in the drama of the founding of a refuge for homeless boys.

DOMINION THEATRE

Craig Rice's startling mystery, "Home Sweet Home," is on the screen of the Dominion Theatre today. Starring Lynn Bari, Randolph Scott and Peggy Ann Garner, the film tells the story of a novelist becoming involved in a murder and who, with the help of her children, solves the murder and brings the criminal to justice.

ROYAL THEATRE

After four years of careful grooming by M-G-M, Beverly Tyler achieved the rewards of hard study and patient waiting by winning the feminine lead in her very first picture, that of Alison Keith in the filmization of A. J. Cronin's best-seller, "The Green Years," now showing at the Royal Theatre.

CAPITOL THEATRE

In Mervyn LeRoy's new comedy for RKO Radio, "Without Reservations," now at the Capitol Theatre, Claudette Colbert is mistaken for a "beetle" when she boards a train minus a ticket and evinces a lively interest in two marine flyers. "Beetle" is G.I. lingo.

RIO THEATRE

"Trigger Fingers," which is now at the Rio Theatre, proves to be an explosive western drama full of rapidfire thrills. Johnny Mack Brown occupies the starring role, with Raymond Hatton featured and lovely Jennifer Holt as the principal female interest.

Water-Bird Engravings Shown At Library Here

The provincial library is now displaying an exhibition of water-birds, featuring engravings from the drawings of Alexander Wilson, pioneer artist of American bird-life.

Born in Paisley, Scotland, in 1766, Wilson went to America in 1794, and in 1802 he began a series of sketches of birds seen in the vicinity of Philadelphia. So thorough was Wilson in his exploration that in the 100 years following the publication of his "The American Ornithologist," a series of books which preceded Audubon's famous "Birds of America" by 20 years, only 23 more indigenous birds were added to his collection by American ornithologists.

Wilson died in 1813.

No single reservations will be accepted on any attraction until 30 days before the play date. This regulation is necessary because season tickets are being allotted a much greater proportion of the available seats than during the war years, and we do not wish to accept single orders, which we will in all probability be unable to fill. Accordingly, we urge our patrons to purchase season tickets if they wish proper accommodation during the coming year.
